Dresden, Nov. 2. Sir Richard Vernon, Envoy-Extraordinary from the King of Great Britain, arrived here on the 23d inst, and on the 28th had Audience of the King of Poland.

Paris, Nov. 9. The Regent having been acquainted by the Earl of Stair, Minister of the King of Great Britain, that the Pretender was come to a Place three Leagues on this side of Chateau-Thierry in Champagne, gave Directions yesterday to the Duke de Guiche to dispatch M. de Contade Major of the Regiment of French Guards and Major-General, with strict Orders to stop him from proceeding further, and to oblige him to go back into Lorraine. Accordingly M. de Contade set out at five this Morning, having besides his private Instructions a Warrant in the ordinary Form, commanding all Civil Magistrates and Officers of Justice to be aiding and assisting if required.

Antwerp, Nov. 7. N.S. All the difficulties which have so long retarded the Conclusion of the Barrier Treaty, are now happily got over, and the several Instruments will be sign'd by the Plenipotentiaries as soon as they can be writ over fair, and compared together. The Transport Ships, Provisions and all other things necessary for the Embarkation of the Troops at Ostend are intirely ready, and those Troops are making such diligence in their March from their several Quarters that they will be all arrived and ready to go on Board by the 12th Instant, N.S. and may sail with the first fair Wind that presents afterwards.

Edinburgh, Octob. 30. Then they marched from Jedburgh towards Hawick, being so diligently followed by General Carpenter, that he was within eight or nine Miles of them last Night. The Rebels with the Earl of Mar continue at Perth: Those which appeared before Inverary are marched off to Strathern. The Duke of Argyll with his Majesty's Forces is still encamped at Sterling.

Carlisle, Oct. 31. On the 29th the Rebels marched from Jedburgh to Hawick, and on the 30th to Langham about 14 Miles from hence; they cantoned their Horse, but kept their Foot in that Town. Early this Morning Brigadier Stanwix with 60 of our Militia-Horse went out from hence to Longton, and had there a certain Account that the Rebels marched before Day from Langham, taking their way towards Dumfries; but whether they will proceed directly thither, or turn towards Moffat which is a mountainous Country, is yet uncertain. General Carpenter arrived at Jedburgh the 30th in the Morning; and will continue his Pursuit of the Rebels with all Diligence.
